

How Israel brought Gaza to the brink of humanitarian catastrophe

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) Avi Shlaim

Source The Guardian

Date January 7, 2009

URL <http://www.guardian.co.uk/world/2009/jan/07/gaza-israel-palestine>

Quote

“ It was not Hamas but the IDF that broke the ceasefire. It did so by a raid into Gaza on 4 November that killed six Hamas men. Israel's objective is not just the defence of its population but the eventual overthrow of the Hamas government in Gaza by turning the people against their rulers. And far from taking care to spare civilians, Israel is guilty of indiscriminate bombing and of a three-year-old blockade that has brought the inhabitants of Gaza, now 1.5 million, to the brink of a humanitarian catastrophe.”

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item argues against the position Israel was right to attack Gaza on the topic Gaza War.

Retrieved from

"https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=How_Israel_brought_Gaza_to_the_brink_of_humanitarian_catastrophe&oldid=9856"

This page was last edited on July 14, 2009, at 17:42.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.