

'We wrote the bill'

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) Las Vegas Review-Journal editorial board

Source Las Vegas Review-Journal

Date January 25, 2009

URL <http://www.lvrj.com/opinion/38291674.html>

Quote

“ House Republicans wisely are distancing themselves from this boondoggle. On Friday, they urged the president to stimulate the economy solely through tax cuts -- not frivolous spending. Their proposal includes slashing rates on those in the two lowest income tax brackets, making unemployment benefits off limits to the IRS, offering incentives to home buyers who make down payments of at least 5 percent and cutting taxes on small businesses. That makes more sense than spending too much, too late.”

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item argues against the position Act should be passed on the topic American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009.

Retrieved from "https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=%27We_wrote_the_bill%27&oldid=8898"

This page was last edited on January 28, 2009, at 15:33.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.