A Path to Common Ground

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s)	James Baker
Source	The Washington Post
Date	April 5, 2007
URL	http://www.washingtonpost.com/wp-dyn/content/article/2007/04/04/AR2007040402252.htm	าไ
Quote	"Recent narrow votes in the House and Senate, largely along partisan lines, illustrate our country's continuing division on this critical issue. The best, and perhaps only, way to build national agreement on the path forward is for the president and Congress to embrace the only set of recommendations that has generated bipartisan support: the Iraq Study Group report."

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item argues for the position Iraq Study Group's recommendations should be followed on the topic Post-invasion Iraq.

Retrieved from "https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=A_Path_to_Common_Ground&oldid=5197"

This page was last edited on April 5, 2007, at 23:08.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.