A government of laws

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) Nat Hentoff

Source The Washington Times

Date September 25, 2006

URL http://www3.washingtontimes.com/op-ed/20060924-085114-5992r.htm

Quote

"But these senators allowed the suspension of habeas petitions for many detainees, including those who may be entirely innocent. And if the prohibitions on habeas rights become law -- the prisoners can be held for the rest of their lives on the secret evidence and the coerced interrogations that the three senators tried to remedy in their bill."

"

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item argues against the position Compromise bill should be passed on the topic Military Commissions Act of 2006.

Retrieved from "https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=A government of laws&oldid=6232"

This page was last edited on July 16, 2007, at 16:26.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.