

A plan for defusing North Korea crisis

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) John O'Sullivan

Source Chicago Sun-Times

Date October 17, 2006

URL <http://www.suntimes.com/news/osullivan/99082,CST-EDT-osul17.article>

Quote

“ "North Korean refugees will eventually become a bipartisan political issue on the scale of the plight of Soviet Jews in the 1970s. Just as that issue produced the Jackson-Vanik amendment, forcing the Soviets to choose between allowing their emigration or losing access to the U.S. market, so the plight of North Korean refugees will eventually present China with a similar choice." ”

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item argues for the position North Korean nuclear crisis / U.S. should use North Korean refugees issue to pressure China on the topic North Korean nuclear crisis.

Retrieved from "https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=A_plan_for_defusing_North_Korea_crisis&oldid=3734"

This page was last edited on October 17, 2006, at 16:27.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.