

A public advocate for the United States

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) Alan Dershowitz

Source The Washington Times

Date July 28, 2006

URL <http://www3.washingtontimes.com/op-ed/20060727-083002-3605r.htm>

Quote

“ Some critics have argued that Mr. Bolton is better in his public role as advocate than in his behind-the-scenes role as conciliator. But at this point in history, the United States needs a public advocate who can further its case in the court of public opinion. No one does that better than John Bolton.”

The following other items refer to this item: A defeat for Bolton could undercut US policy

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item argues for the position Bolton should be confirmed on the topic Confirmation of John Bolton as U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations, 2006.

Retrieved from

"https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=A_public_advocate_for_the_United_States&oldid=6272"

This page was last edited on July 16, 2007, at 16:30.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.