

Barack Obama for President (New York Times)

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) The New York Times editorial board
Source The New York Times
Date October 23 2008
URL <http://www.nytimes.com/2008/10/24/opinion/24fri1.html>

Quote

“Mr. Obama is clear that the nation’s tax structure must be changed to make it fairer. That means the well-off Americans who have benefited disproportionately from Mr. Bush’s tax cuts will have to pay some more. Working Americans, who have seen their standard of living fall and their children’s options narrow, will benefit. Mr. Obama wants to raise the minimum wage and tie it to inflation, restore a climate in which workers are able to organize unions if they wish and expand educational opportunities.”

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item argues for the position Obama should be elected on the topic United States presidential election, 2008.

Retrieved from
"https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=Barack_Obama_for_President_(New_York_Times)&oldid=8223"

This page was last edited on October 24, 2008, at 14:45.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.