

Britain's obligation to blockade North Korea

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) The Daily Telegraph editorial board

Source The Daily Telegraph

Date October 16, 2006

URL <http://www.telegraph.co.uk/opinion/main.jhtml?xml=/opinion/2006/10/16/dl1601.xml>

Quote

“ Now that the UN Security Council has authorised those sanctions, it falls to us to assist in their enforcement in any way we can, in particular via a blockade of North Korean trade. But, just as the Army has been starved of the resources to do its job in Iraq and Afghanistan, so there are serious question marks over whether the Navy is equipped for this task.” ”

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item argues for the position Economic sanctions should be placed on North Korea on the topic North Korean nuclear crisis.

Retrieved from

"https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=Britain%27s_obligation_to_blockade_North_Korea&oldid=3747"

This page was last edited on October 18, 2006, at 15:21.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.