

Conscience and the War

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) Stephen F. Cohen

Source The Nation

Date March 8, 2007

URL <http://www.thenation.com/doc/20070326/cohen>

Quote

“ No truly functioning state exists in Iraq today, only a pseudo-"sovereign" government whose effective authority does not extend far beyond its own offices in the Green Zone. Moreover, Iraq is already, by any criterion, in the throes of civil war, chaos and even ethnic cleansing (euphemistically called "sectarian violence"), while the US occupation has bred hordes of native terrorists since 2003 and become a bloody mecca for foreign ones.”

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item argues for the position Coalition troops should pull out on the topic Post-invasion Iraq.

Retrieved from "https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=Conscience_and_the_War&oldid=4756"

This page was last edited on March 16, 2007, at 14:20.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.