

Hard Truths About the Conflict

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) Robert J. Lieber

Source The Washington Post

Date January 1, 2009

URL <http://www.washingtonpost.com/wp-dyn/content/article/2008/12/31/AR2008123102773.html>

Quote

“ Ultimately, peace will be possible only if most Palestinians and their leaders become convinced that terrorism and violence are a dead end and that they cannot under any circumstances prevail over Israel through the use of force. If today's conflict leaves a seriously weakened and politically damaged Hamas, that result is more likely to enhance the prospects for peace than to weaken them.”

”

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item argues for the position Israel was right to attack Gaza on the topic Gaza War.

Retrieved from "https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=Hard_Truths_About_the_Conflict&oldid=9852"

This page was last edited on July 14, 2009, at 17:42.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.