It's Time to Intervene in Syria

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s)	John Judis
Source	The New Republic
Date	April 30, 2013
URL	http://www.newrepublic.com/article/113068/syria-intervention-why-obama-should-authorize-force	#
Quote	First, there is good reason to discourage—by force, if necessary—the use of chemical weapons. After 100,000 were killed in World War I from poison gas, the League of Nations in 1925 adopted a ban on their use, which even the adversaries in World War II observed. The United Nations adopted a ban of its own in 1992. Secondly, there is good reason for the United States, once it declares a "red line," to observe it.

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item argues for the position United States should intervene on the topic Syrian civil war.

Retrieved from "https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=lt%27s_Time_to_Intervene_in_Syria&oldid=16496"

This page was last edited on April 30, 2013, at 19:16.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.