

Leave net neutrality alone

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) Times Union editorial board

Source Times Union

Date November 21, 2017

URL <http://www.timesunion.com/opinion/article/Editorial-Leave-net-neutrality-alone-12375484.php>

Quote

“ In the face of the obvious anti-competitive behavior that ending net neutrality could unleash, proponents of this idea counter, incredibly, that this is merely a free-market approach. That's a deceit. As internet users in upstate New York well know, ISPs are virtual monopolies in most markets. And as we're seeing with the proposed merger of AT&T and Time Warner, the impetus is toward even more consolidation and less competition. ”

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item argues against the position Net neutrality should be repealed on the topic Net neutrality in the United States.

Retrieved from "https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=Leave_net_neutrality_alone&oldid=29453"

This page was last edited on December 25, 2017, at 15:23.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.