

Loosening the Stem Cell Binds

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) The New York Times editorial board

Source The New York Times

Date April 13, 2007

URL <http://www.nytimes.com/2007/04/13/opinion/13fri1.html>

Quote

“ “The restrictions on federal financing have led to absurdly complicated and costly maneuvers... In a shocking example cited during Senate debate, a California researcher who had been cultivating stem cells in a makeshift privately financed lab suffered a power failure but was unable to transfer her lines into industrial-strength freezers in another lab because they were federally financed. Two years of work melted away because of this inanity.”

”

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item argues for the position Act should be passed on the topic Stem Cell Research Enhancement Act of 2007.

Retrieved from "https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=Loosening_the_Stem_Cell_Binds&oldid=5284"

This page was last edited on April 13, 2007, at 13:56.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.