

Neoconservatism dies in Gaza

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) Juan Cole

Source Salon.com

Date January 8, 2009

URL <http://www.salon.com/opinion/feature/2009/01/08/gaza/>

Quote

“Massive demonstrations and protests in Jordan calling for the expulsion of the Israeli ambassador over the Israeli military's disregard for civilian life have caused Prime Minister Nader Dahabi to tell the parliament, "Jordan will look into all options, including reconsidering relations with Israel." So much for Feith, Perle and Wurmser's plan to solidify ties between Israel, Turkey and Jordan.”

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item argues against the position Israel was right to attack Gaza on the topic Gaza War.

Retrieved from "https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=Neoconservatism_dies_in_Gaza&oldid=9884"

This page was last edited on July 14, 2009, at 17:44.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.