

Now That We've 'Won,' Let's Come Home

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) Frank Rich

Source The New York Times

Date June 22, 2008

URL <http://www.nytimes.com/2008/06/22/opinion/22rich.html>

Quote

“ If “we are winning” and the surge is a “success,” then what is the rationale for keeping American forces bogged down there while the Taliban regroup ominously in Afghanistan? Why, if this is victory, does Mr. McCain keep threatening that “chaos and genocide” will follow our departure? And why should we take the word of a prophet who failed to anticipate the chaos and ethnic cleansing that would greet our occupation?”

”

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item argues for the position Coalition troops should pull out on the topic Post-invasion Iraq.

Retrieved from

"https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=Now_That_We've_'Won,'_Let's_Come_Home&oldid=7781"

This page was last edited on June 22, 2008, at 17:00.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.