

Obama administration oblivious to Iran danger

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) Jack Kelly

Source Pittsburgh Post-Gazette

Date December 6, 2013

URL <http://www.post-gazette.com/opinion/jack-kelly/2013/12/06/Obama-administration-oblivious-to-iran-danger/stories/201312060192>

Quote

“ Perhaps a nuclear armed Iran can be deterred from war, as the Soviet Union was. But for the leaders of the Soviet Union — who as good Communists were atheists — this world is all there is. Iran is run by religious fanatics who think a world war would speed up the return of the Mahdi. Those who love life are deterred more easily than those who love death. But even with the Soviets, at least three times we came perilously close to nuclear war. ”

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item argues for the position United States should not have signed agreement on the topic Geneva interim agreement on Iranian nuclear program.

This item refers to the previous opinion item Worse Than Munich.

Retrieved from

"https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=Obama_administration_oblivious_to_Iran_danger&oldid=17121"

This page was last edited on December 9, 2013, at 18:45.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.