

Shades of the old poll tax persist in election plans

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) Dwight Lewis

Source The Tennessean

Date September 17, 2006

URL <http://www.tennessean.com/apps/pbcs.dll/article?AID=/20060917/COLUMNIST0107/609170415/1101/NEWS01>

Quote

“ Call it a modern day poll tax — a tax that was used in the 1950s and 1960s in some parts of the South to keep certain people from voting. It shouldn't have been used then, and it shouldn't be used today.”

”

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item argues against the position Act should be passed on the topic Federal Election Integrity Act.

Retrieved from

"https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=Shades_of_the_old_poll_tax_persist_in_election_plans&oldid=3504"

This page was last edited on October 1, 2006, at 20:57.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.