

The Constitution and the Mosque

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) The New York Times editorial board

Source The New York Times

Date August 16, 2010

URL <http://www.nytimes.com/2010/08/17/opinion/17tue2.html>

Quote

“ “[Obama] would have done better if he had explained the wisdom of going ahead with the project, which developers said is intended to bring Muslims and non-Muslims together. In addition to a place of worship, it would have a pool and performing arts center. They also have said they want the board to include members from other faiths — a promise they should take care to keep.” ”

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item argues for the position Mosque should be allowed to be built on the topic Park51 controversy.

Retrieved from "https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=The_Constitution_and_the_Mosque&oldid=12767"

This page was last edited on August 25, 2010, at 02:06.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.