

The Enemy Detainee Mess

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) The Wall Street Journal editorial board

Source The Wall Street Journal

Date July 3, 2008

URL <http://online.wsj.com/article/SB121504362668624767.html>

Quote

“ While GIs gathered shell casings or interviewed witnesses to meet a U.S. judge's habeas standard, they would leave themselves open to counterattack or sniper fire. No commander – and no Commander in Chief – can ask his troops to put themselves in danger to satisfy Justice Kennedy's legal afflatus. This is what Justice Antonin Scalia meant when he wrote that Americans will die as a result of Boumediene.”

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item argues against the position Supreme Court was correct in its ruling on the topic Boumediene v. Bush.

Retrieved from "https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=The_Enemy_Detainee_Mess&oldid=7849"

This page was last edited on July 3, 2008, at 13:34.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.