

The Fifth Anniversary

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) The Washington Post editorial board

Source The Washington Post

Date September 10, 2006

URL <http://www.washingtonpost.com/wp-dyn/content/article/2006/09/09/AR2006090900782.html>

Quote

“Mr. Bush seems to understand better than he did five years ago that diplomacy and the promotion of democratic values are as important to winning the war as military action. But in insisting on maintaining the CIA's secret prisons and in asking Congress to cancel some of the protections from abuse granted prisoners by the Geneva Conventions, he risks perpetuating and compounding one of his greatest errors”

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item argues against the position Act should be passed on the topic Military Commissions Act of 2006.

Retrieved from "https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=The_Fifth_Anniversary&oldid=3109"

This page was last edited on September 17, 2006, at 19:56.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.