Trump's holding American farmers hostage. How much damage is he willing to do?

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) The Sacramento Bee editorial board

Source The Sacramento Bee

Date September 9, 2019

URL https://www.sacbee.com/opinion/article234742677.html

Ouote

With Trump's trade wars risking permanent damage to the agricultural sector, perhaps it's time for American farmers to turn up the volume and make sure the president hears their message loud and clear. The same goes for American consumers, since the average household will pay an extra $1000 per year for Chinese goods thanks to Trump's tariff tantrums, according to JPMorgan.

"

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item argues against the position Trade war is good for the United States on the topic China-United States trade war.

Retrieved from

 $"https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=Trump's_holding_American_farmers_hostage._How_much_damage_is_he_willing_to_do%3F&oldid=30811"$

This page was last edited on October 23, 2019, at 12:56.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.