

Truth about Bush's SCHIP veto doesn't match harsh rhetoric

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) Grace-Marie Turner

Source The Baltimore Sun

Date October 14, 2007

URL <http://www.baltimoresun.com/news/opinion/oped/bal-op.schip14oct14,0,5817986.story>

Quote “Most children in these higher-income families, unsurprisingly, are already covered by private insurance. According to the Congressional Budget Office, 77 percent of children in families earning more than twice the poverty line have private health insurance now.”

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item argues against the position Program should be expanded on the topic State Children's Health Insurance Program.

Retrieved from

"https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=Truth_about_Bush%27s_SCHIP_veto_doesn%27t_match_harsh_rhetoric&oldid=6738"

This page was last edited on November 6, 2007, at 02:54.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.