

What Voters Want From Their Senator

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) Ned Lamont

Source The Hartford Courant

Date 8/27/2006

URL <http://www.courant.com/news/opinion/commentary/hc-commentarylamont0827.artaug27,0,1586957.story?coll=hc-headlines-commentary>

Quote

“ Finally and most urgently, we need to change Washington to replace a national security policy of weakness with one of strength. Our costly and counterproductive decision to go to war in Iraq has weakened America - by taking our eye off the ball in Afghanistan, by overstretching our military, by failing to invest in homeland security, by putting Israel's security at risk and by alienating our allies and further angering our adversaries. ”

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item argues against the position Lieberman should be elected on the topic Connecticut United States Senate election, 2006.

This item argues for the position Lamont should be elected on the topic Connecticut United States Senate election, 2006.

Retrieved from

"https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=What_Voters_Want_From_Their_Senator&oldid=2643"

This page was last edited on August 27, 2006, at 18:44.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.