

When Friends Fall Out

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) Thomas Friedman

Source The New York Times

Date June 1, 2010

URL <http://www.nytimes.com/2010/06/02/opinion/02friedman.html>

Quote

“There is no question that this flotilla was a setup. Israel's intelligence failed to fully appreciate who was on board, and Israel's leaders certainly failed to think more creatively about how to avoid the very violent confrontation that the blockade-busters wanted. At the same time, though, the Israeli partial blockade of Hamas and Gaza has been going on for some four years now. [...] It is overwhelmingly in Israel's interest to bring more diplomatic imagination and energy to ending this Gaza siege.”

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item takes a mixed stance on the position Israel was justified in its actions on the topic Gaza flotilla raid.

Retrieved from "https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=When_Friends_Fall_Out&oldid=12060"

This page was last edited on June 2, 2010, at 12:44.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.